	Inaugural Session
	Patriotism is one of the oft repeated and easily misused words in the present day and age. We are quick to prove our patriotism by chest thumping and sloganeering whenever there is either a cricket match or a mere mention of Pakistan. While these reasons are good enough to tie a vibrant nation like ours, it becomes quite an alarming scenario if these become the only two threads that unite this country. While everyone today is opinionated and a champion of bigger such as of the government functioning and country's defense strategies, not many seem to show the same fervour when it comes to performing their fundamental duties as listed in our Constitution or safeguarding the very fabric of the Constitution that holds the essence of this country. Today India is being bled through a million cuts and horrifying as it may sound, not all of these are from weapons. There are dangers looming large over our basic social, cyber, economic and corporate environs, and it is for the citizens to responsibly uphold their patriotism in the right spirit and save the democracy from eroding.

PRACTISING PATRIOTISM

1000-1145	Cyber Patriotism
	One doesn't need to reiterate about the gigantic presence of the cyber phenomenon in this networked world. But with these cyber inroads, the threats to cyber security have also grown manifold and as we digitise, this will inadvertently lead to further cyber crime and terrorism. Are we equipped to handle such a crisis and is there any level of preparedness that the State is working towards in the face of cyber threats? We know the answer and we know that so far there is no cyber security policy that is available in the country's public domain. Even before we begin to talk about cyber security, it would be important to know the intensity of the threat and its evolution. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Why is there a need for a Cyber Security framework? 2. Is there a need for expert as well as public participation in Cyber Security outside of the Government or end-users? 3. What should be the integral components of such a framework? E.g. Technology, Verticals, Policy, Human Resources etc.

1215-1330	Economic Patriotism
	Indian economy thrives largely on its MSMEs and despite them being the lifeline of millions of Indians, India's policy environment has never been conducive to their growth. Ironical as it may sound, there is a unanimous support of this statement and yet it has failed to reflect in our State policies. While there is a constant outcry for call of patriotism, there is another side to this argument as well which rightly questions the State's responsibility towards its citizens. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What are the bite-the-bullet reforms required to unleash the MSME opportunity? 2. Only 437 MSME's have accessed capital markets? Why? 3. Should MSME's be shifted to a low compliance regime? 4. How about Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) to MSME's for areas such as skill development and apprenticeship?

1430-1600	Corporate Patriotism
	It is ironic that we still need to either spell out duties or exert moral pressure to persuade the stakeholders in this nation to do the right thing for instance, paying one's taxes honestly. We have to transform patriotism into a mass movement and patriotic corporates need to go beyond narrow financial interests and embrace best-in-class governance standards. Industry has forgotten that its stakeholders are not just its shareholders and there is a need to grow the whole pie, not just their slice of it, and share it justifiably with all stakeholders. The country's strong corporations, who have become synonymous with profit-bearing, need to take the position of the bearer of patriotism too and they cannot shrug off this movement with mere donations and CSR activities. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What should be the patriotic corporate conduct? 2. What should be the top three to-do list when designing a charter that lists the best corporate practises? 3. If other nations like the USA can declare that for the corporates to flourish, they have to take care of their workers too, why is it still a far cry for us?
